

CHS students perform with award-winning a Cappella ensemble on CPAC stage

CEDARBURG — The Cedarburg PAC, Inc. Visiting Artists Series coordinated a masterclass Friday between CHS music students and Six Appeal Vocal Band, an award-winning a cappella ensemble.

In support of the Cedarburg PAC, Inc. mission to enlighten, educate and entertain, Six Appeal rehearsed with the students and led a discussion about what it's like being a professional a cappella group. They covered topics like: turning a music hobby into a career, what the business side of a band looks like, trying to stand out in a saturated music market and the logistics of coordinating six working professionals living in different parts of the country.

The group invited the CHS Bella Voce/A Cappella Choir to perform with them on stage later that evening.

Members of Six Appeal Vocal Band address choir students from Cedarburg High School during a masterclass prior their performance Friday night at the Cedarburg Performing Arts Center.
